Spaloo Bidet Seat's "15=Donate" Program Helps Wounded American Soldiers In Cooperation With Homes For Our Troops

(Chicago, IL) – If you've ever thought of buying through Ebay, or if you're a regular customer of the online auction site, you might want to consider TODAY to be a good time to purchase a Spaloo Bidet Toilet Seat. Not only will you benefit from the therapeutic effects of cleaning with water instead of toilet paper, but you'll be helping a disabled vet at the same time. Spaloo has teamed up with Homes For Our Troops to donate a Spaloo bidet seat to a wounded veteran for every 15 units sold through Ebay – hence the program name: "15=Donate."

Spaloo just donated its second seat, this time benefiting SPC Russell Kyle Burleson of Springhill, Louisiana, of the 1st Cavalry Division, who was critically wounded in a firefight in Sadr City, Iraq, in August 2004 while serving as a top gunner on an HMMWV. Kyle was shot in his left cheek and the bullet exited the back of his neck, leaving him quadriplegic. For more information about SPC Burleson check the Homes For Our Troops website at www.homesforourtroops.org/site/PageServer?pagename=KyleBurleson.

Spaloo – which takes the place of a typical round or oval toilet seat found in any ordinary bathroom – offers many benefits to men and women alike. Its gentle spray of warm water can be adjusted with the touch of a button on a user-friendly control panel, which activates the front or rear washing nozzles, as well as the blow drier. Individuals who have lost limbs, who suffer from spinal cord injuries, or who have had major surgery, will find that Spaloo can help them to regain independence or to maintain the ability to take care of oneself, not to mention it can substitute for a daily shower when such luxuries may not be possible. Truly Spaloo offers the most innovative and hygienic toileting experience of most people's lives.

Over 19,000 U.S. soldiers have been wounded since combat in Iraq began in 2003. Through Spaloo's Homes for Our Troops 15=Donate program, Ebay customers can help soldiers in one of two ways: purchase a Spaloo and add to the numbers so that Spaloo can donate a unit to Homes For Our Troops for every 15 units sold. Or, purchase a Spaloo and designate it directly for a soldier in need.

In a time in history when American service men and women (and their families) are giving of their lives in the name of freedom, Spaloo is offering one small way to give back. The Spaloo retails for $399.00, and it is available NOW through Ebay.com for $329.00.
